Lake Park Group Plans To Buy Mil's Tract

Commissioners To Meet
This Evening To Study
Proposal By GC Steel

Members of the Horseshoe Lake state park commission will meet this evening to consider a land-swap proposal by Granite City Steel Co. President Nicholas P. Veeder, and may submit a counter-proposal to the steel firm. It was announced Friday by Commission Chairman Henry D. Karandeff.

Karandeff told the Press-Record a recommendation is to be made for organization of a not-for-profit corporation to buy the 512 acres of land owned by the steel firm and approved by the state for construction of pollution abatement settling basins.

They already been approached by individuals willing to contribute to such a not-for-profit group to save the lake for development of a state park and wildlife refuge. Karandeff said.

Outlining the plan, Karandeff said the corporation could raise funds and buy the 512 acres from the steel firm, which could use the money to purchase another site farther south along the east shoreline of the lake.

Cong. Price Interviewed
Reached at his Washington office this morning, Sen. Marvin Price told a Press-Record reporter that while federal funds are not available to prevent projects such as development of Horseshoe Lake as a regional park area, he would under four bills now before the Senate and House.

Price said one bill permits use of federal funds to buy land at lakes has passed the Senate and is in House Committee. "Our bills are still in committee in both houses," he added.

He confirmed a meeting he will have with area labor leaders opposing the lake usage by the steel plant next Saturday evening at a recognition banquet to be held at Belleville. Price said he arranged earlier this year for Karandeff to

School Crossing Safety To Be Meeting Topic

School-crossing problems brought on by Illinois' adoption of the uniform traffic code will be discussed by school and safety representatives at a 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at Granite City board of education offices, 2014 State street.

The new code eliminates the principal of the elementary and junior high schools, the principal or safety officer of each PTA, and representatives of the police department, the parochial schools, the press and other media, the Quad-City Safety Council and the vision of highways safety officials.

The U. S. Manual on Uniform Traffic is designed to speed traffic, according to City Atty. John Gleboff. Illinois and several other states have adopted the code, designed to give uniformity to traffic procedures throughout the United States.

Advantages cited for the code are uniformity of traffic-control devices, universal interpretation of the traffic code and economy of maintenance.

Bond Issue Offers GC 2nd Sewer System

completely ignored the city's drainage problems and offered a treatment plant twice the size of the one designed for the city's program. The larger sewage treatment plant proposed by the levee district, would be of a capacity size to treat storm water as well as sanitary sewage.

Other Features In Design
The separate storm water drainage system and the treatment plant are not all the $10,000,000 bond issue has to offer. Several deficiencies in the city's drainage problems. The new drainage system planned would divert all storm water north of 21st street to the ditch.

Not only would this relieve the present sewer system, which would be utilized for sanitary sewage, but it would give added capacity for both storm water and sanitary sewage flow, designed for future growth of the city.

The ditch, which empties into

Horseshoe Lake, is to be doubled in width, paved with concrete and fenced.

More And Faster Runoff
With the widening and paving the capacity of the ditch is to be more than doubled. The runoff of surface water would be speeded. To eliminate the hazard of a major river in the vicinity of homes, the entire ditch would be fenced.

Improvement of the ditch is one of the keys to solve city drainage problems. The new drainage system planned would divert all storm water north of 21st street to the ditch.

seen in the past. The hours really should be shorter." Also speaking at the meeting were tavern owners Madison Garrett and Robert Kingsbury. Garrett said there has been a decided trend in recent years toward later social hours, especially on weekends.

Need Extra Hours To Survive
"The grocery stores and clothing stores have gone to longer hours to take advantage of public spending," he said. "If we don't get a few more hours we won't be able to survive."

Kingsbury said he asked only for a fair chance to compete with other taverns. "If I can't serve late-hour customers they will go somewhere else," he told the council.

Rev. A. B. Sadler, pastor of the First Baptist Church, said his entire congregation went on record as opposed to longer tavern hours.

"We were reluctant to appear here tonight," Rev. Sadler said. "We came because we were asked. We are not trying to run other people's business, but we like to have a quiet, peaceful community—at all hours."

Milton Morris, president of Milnor Manufacturing Co., told the council he believes Venice has too many taverns. He suggested that in addition to maintaining shorter hours the council study possibilities of limiting the number of establishments.

Considered Moving
Morris said he had given serious consideration to selling his business and moving from Venice before the 4 a.m. daily tavern closing hours were shortened last year. "You cannot be in a loose community without being a little loose yourself," he said.

"You need a community where you can raise your children to be a little better than you are," Morris said.

Others speaking against longer hours included J. W. Hampton, Mrs. Ernestine Griggs and Mrs. Betty Guffey. All three moral issues involved. Mrs. Guffey said she has lived in Texas and Oklahoma and found people there who knew the reputation of Venice's Main street.

"If got so I was ashamed of telling people where I was from," she said. After the council studied petitions presented, Alderman Miller presented a motion that existing tavern closing hours of 1 a.m. on weekdays and 2 a.m. on Sunday be retained. In a roll call vote, all aldermen favored the motion.

Venice Council Approves 1962-63 Budget, Tax Levy

A 1962-63 corporate property tax levy of $115,826 and special levies totaling $176,362 were approved by the Venice city council Friday night.

Appropriations for general corporate purposes approved by the council totaled $156,973 with $41,049 of the amount secured by cash on hand or to be collected from sources other than taxes.

The council also approved a $17,200 increase in the September operating budget for McKinley Bridge, along with the 1962-63 bridge budget.

The September budget amendment adds $15,000 to the bridge painting fund and $2,200 for future equipment purchases.

Mayor Lee said a sufficient fund should be built up by 1963 to 1966 to pay for bridge painting. The new bridge budget, unchanged from the tentative budget approved by the council earlier this year, calls for expenditures of $295,307 during the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The budget allows $78,772 for operating expenses, $15,476 for maintenance, $10,000 for painting and $138,159 for general purposes and administration.

Mayor Lee told the council it has been possible to secure 1962 model police cars on which bids were accepted earlier because the auto is out of stock. Minor repairs will be made on the 1960 model car now in use, he said, and new bids applied for when the 1963 model arrive. One of the city's two police cars was wrecked earlier this month.

Special Levies
In addition to the general corporate levy, the special levies approved by the council are as follows: Police department, $56,000; garbage collection, $24,482; police pension fund, $19,373; fire department, $23,352; library, $23,375; Illinois municipal retirement fund, $15,000; working cash, $10,000; streets and alleys, $24,500.

Appropriations included under the general levy include streets and alleys, $25,850; police department, $40,931; city officers, $35,210; law, $34,415; insurance, $19,881; printing, $13,000; sanitary and health, $7,440; sewers, $300; city hall, $9,010; auditing, $800; lights, $5,000; sidewalks, $3,500; water, $5,000; elections, $1,770; garbage collection, $10,000; civil defense, $1,000; and contingencies, $500.

A hit-and-run motorist struck an auto driven by Hazel S. Lewis, 3017 Washington avenue at 12:10 a.m. Friday. She told police she stopped before turning into her driveway to allow two autos to pass from the opposite direction. The first one passed but the second struck her auto on the left side and failed to stop.

Debate On Garbage Expected Tonight

While nothing special is included on the agenda for this evening's meeting of the Granite City council, a continuation of debate on garbage-trash pickups is expected.

Routine reports are to be submitted and there will be committee reports, which generally bring out discussions. At the last meeting, Aug. 6, Mayor Davis was challenged on his published views of the change to a private contractor replacing the city sanitation department, and he ruled an alderman out-of-order to adjourn the session.

Since that time, a number of aldermen have expressed their views in an advertisement similar to the mayor's and in letters to the Forum Column of the Press-Record.

If tonight's meeting follows the regular order of procedure, the sanitation committee will be called upon for a recommendation on bids for the sale of garbage and trash trucks which no longer are needed. It was during the committee's opening of truck bids two weeks ago, that debate was resumed on the sanitation department.

Picketing Continues
Picketing of the city hall continues by the former sanitation department workers. Their union representative, Arthur Crouch of the Teamsters Union, has been attending the council sessions regularly.

He said over the weekend that the union and the ex-city employees still are awaiting notification from Springfield on the date to be set by the state Supreme Court for an appeal hearing. The union is asking the high court to overrule a decision by the Madison county circuit court which denied an injunction to halt garbage and trash collections under a $157,500 a year private contract.

Mayor Davis, who has been out of town on a vacation in the Bagnell Dam area, has returned and is expected to preside this evening.

Wallace-Stassi Nuptials At Wood River Saturday

An out-of-town wedding of interest here is that Saturday at St. Bernard Roman Catholic Church in Wood River uniting in marriage Miss Phyllis Ann Stassi, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip T. Stassi, 834 Lewis place, Wood River, and Don Leon Wallace, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Wallace, 3144 Myrtle avenue.

Father Robert heard the vows of the couple at 11 a.m., and the breakfast and reception were held at the KC Hall in Wood River.

The soloist, Mrs. Mary Martin, sang "Ave Maria" and "Hail Mary" at the altar. The wedding march, "The Wedding March," was played by the wedding band.

Mrs. J. B. Halbig of Mt. Carmel, Ill., was matron of honor, and Mrs. Don Alexander, Miss Lee Dabbs, a niece of the bride, Miss Jacqueline Stassi of St. Louis, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Sharon Beckham, also of St. Louis, served as bridesmaids.

Two junior maids were Mary Beth Mornino, a niece of the bride, and Phyllis Wallace, the bridegroom's sister.

The sanctuary was banked with arrangements of wood-wardia fern and bouquets of white and yellow gladioli and in the aisle were standards of smilax and bows of white satin.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a traditional floor-length gown of peau de soie trimmed with appliques of Alencon lace ending in a chapel train. A veil of silk illusion was attached to a crystal and pearl crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis centered with a corsage.

Attendants were Miss Jane Strack and Mrs. Louis Reznack, sisters of the bride, maid of honor, and bridesmaid, Richard Judd, best man, and Louis Reznack, and James and Robert Strack, brothers of the bride, groomsmen and ushers.

The honor attendant wore turquoise blue organza and the bridesmaid was in coral. The dresses were made alike with bouffant skirts trimmed with ruffles. Both carried colonial bouquets of white gladioli edged with seafoam.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Strack chose a dress of light blue organza with white eyellet trim. The bridegroom's mother was in a gold beige silk sheath.

A reception was held at the home of the bride directly after the ceremony.

Trojan Hopes To Repeat As Midwest Conference Grid Champs Look Slim

Take away 12 offensive and defensive regulars, including a pair of speedsters who accounted for more points and yardage than any other halfback duo in the area last year, and what have you?

"Problems," says Madison high school coach Glen Pickering.

"It would be something if we went from first to last in one year," added the Trojan tutor who produced a Midwest conference champion in his second year at the MHS helm in 1961.

Apparently Pickering does not feel the sudden drop is all impossible; he will have perhaps 50 candidates when varsity practice begins on Wednesday, and only six of these lodged enough time last year to win letters.

Five were regulars, including all-conference tackle Sam Dym, halfback Walt Cooper, fullback Terry Andrews, and George Russell and guard John Onesty. The sixth is part-time 1961 quarterback Gary Skinner who looks to be in for a full time assignment this fall.

Gone are eight offensive starters from 1961's 6-1 club which was undefeated in the MWC, last by a touchdown to Granite City and was held to a 19-19 tie by Edwardsville in the season's first game.

Topping the list of lost personnel are halfbacks Ed Petty and Ken Griggs. Both were all-conference selections last year and Petty made several all-state teams and one high school All-America club.

Both will leave later this month for Nashville, where they will attend Tennessee A & I on football scholarships.

Added also on Wednesday will be all-conference quarterback Mick Gravelle, guard Norm Stawar and Wally Weidner, center Ervin Mueller, tackle George Stuart and end Don Freeman. The defensive platoon will operate minus Rich Hamilton, Charles Venarick, Del Clemens and Charlie Kosak, all lost through graduation.

Pickering says he has replacements for some of the graduates, but admits that there are some holes to be filled as of today if Madison's Wing-T offense is to be a going concern again this season.

Speed is essential in the offense, and one halfback candidate, Lester "Flea" White has it. But White is a light 190 pounds.

"Our best sophomore guard prospect, Ralph Ivey, may get a starting chance," Pickering said. Other candidates for the varsity are senior Tom Lunk at quarterback, junior James White (6-7) at end, seniors Ted Nibinski and Ken Harris at tackle, and Harry Harrell at end, and sophomore brothers Tom and Jack Miller along the line and in the backfield, respectively.

Pickering and assistant coach Joe Asperger will complete the issuing of equipment tomorrow, and have scheduled two-day practices at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. beginning Wednesday. "It's too warm, we'll limit workouts to the early mornings only," Pickering added.

Madison begins an eight-game varsity schedule with traditional opening rival Edwardsville in Tigerland on Sept. 14. Freshman coach Bob Page has lined up nine contests for his first year squad.

Sesquicentennial Queen Contest Rules Outlined; Sept. 9-15 Events Scheduled

Sale of tickets in the Madison County Sesquicentennial Queen Contest are under way in the Quad-City area following the kick-off ceremonies recently at the YMCA in Granite City. A total of 80 girls will be in the contest and more candidates are expected.

Voting for queen candidates will take place through purchase of tickets which entitle holders to seats at the "Our 150 Years" festival nights during the celebration at Edwardsville from Sunday, Sept. 9, through Saturday, Sept. 15. Queen candidates are to receive 1000 votes for each one dollar worth sesquicentennial ticket sold in their name and an additional 200 votes for each complete ticket book of 10 that is sold.

According to the rules of the contest, the girl receiving the greatest number of votes will be crowned queen and will get a vacation trip to Bermuda plus prizes donated by county merchants. Girls attaining the next six highest standings will become "Princesses in the Court of Honor" and will be awarded merchandise prizes.

Coronation Ball
The count of votes is to be kept secret until announcement of the winner and runners up at a ball celebration at the Alton Mineral Springs hotel Sept. 10. The winner will be crowned queen Sept. 10 at the sesquicentennial pageant to be held on the old Kettle River farm grounds one mile south of Edwardsville, Sept. 6 will be the last day for casting votes in the contest.

The contest will be run so that candidates may receive help in the contest. Each contestant

Only a contestant is to be permitted to examine her standing during the contest.

Anticipated Attendance
Queen's committee officials said they are expecting through the queen's contest to fill 3500 seats each night of the celebration. The financial success of the sesquicentennial, it was said, will depend on the results of the queen contest. All profits from the sesquicentennial activities, Mrs. Anita Kubant said, will go toward building of a Madison County historical museum, the work of selling old-timer hats, dresses, ties, and other promotional items to the Madison County organizations on a share-of-profit basis.

Concession stands on the sesquicentennial grounds at the old Kettle River plant near Edwardsville are to be operated by clubs and organizations through arrangements made at sesquicentennial headquarters at the Edwardsville courthouse or by contacting L. W. Van Hatten, 1203 Vandalla street, Collinsville.

A "brothers of the brush" contest is being conducted in the Quad-City area by the Granite City Junior Chamber of Commerce. Revenue for the sesquicentennial fund is being raised through sale of permits to shave, and in local stores, auto bumper stickers and old-fashioned apparel.

Carl Hawley of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., of Ohio has been employed to direct the production of the week-long sesquicentennial pageant. The Rogers company specializes in directing historical celebrations. Hawley of Los Angeles, Calif., arrived for the Madison county promotion recently.

Planning is now under way for a historical pageant on the county's past to be held during the sesquicentennial week. The cast of 400 persons is being selected. The play will feature "Indians, settlers and horsemen," and other pioneer and later day characters.

Dr. E. H. Droege Retires After 32-Year Practice

A doctor who brought more babies into the world than he could keep track of will hang up his stethoscope next week after 32 years of practice.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward H. Droege will depart for St. Petersburg, Fla., on Aug. 27 and retire. They have sold their large home at the corner of 27th and State streets and purchased a typical Florida retirement home on Belle Vista Isle, one of the filled-in islands at St. Petersburg.

Their new home is located on a yacht basin but the Droege family is not particularly interested in boats. The doctor likes to fish and watch television. His wife said she will just take it easy and visit friends.

Dr. Droege is 62.

House Is Sold

The home in Granite City has been purchased by a medical doctor from Memphis, Tenn. He is expected to arrive with his family about Sept. 1 and take up commercial practice with one of the large industrial firms here.

The Droege family has been in Florida often and know St. Petersburg well.

We were stationed there a couple of years during World War II," Mrs. Droege said, "and many of our friends from Granite City and St. Louis are retired there already."

Mrs. Droege had a sale of furniture Saturday and disposed of many of her favorite possessions. The new home simply could not accommodate all her furnishings.

Keeping Valuable China
"It's hard to dispose of the things you have collected over a period of years," she said sorrowfully. One thing she insists on taking to Florida, however, is her collection of Dresden china. Among the many pieces in her collection are three that were made in 1738. They are original Meissen pieces which she purchased in Copenhagen, Denmark, while she and the doctor were attending a medical convention there.

They are the only antiques in the house besides me," the doctor joked.

Dr. Droege was born in Red Bud, Ill., and moved here in 1905. He was graduated from Granite City high school with the January class of 1920. He graduated from St. Louis university's medical school and began his practice here in 1920. His office was over the Washington theatre on 19th street. A few years ago he moved his office to the basement of his home.

"That was five or six years ago," he said, "I forget which."

The Droege had occupied the house since 1941 though the doctor entered the U.S. Army that year as a captain.

Released As Colonel
He served on active duty for five years and was released in 1946 as a full colonel. During his army career he was chief surgeon at Camp Stewart and Camp Gordon, both in Georgia.

The doctor is a member of the World Medical Association, the American Medical Association, the Southern Illinois Medical Association, the Madison County Medical Association, and the Tri-City Medical Association. He is past president of the latter and has been a member of the staff of St. Elizabeth Hospital for 32 years.

He also is a member of the Reserve Officers Association.

Mrs. Droege belongs to the Cotter and the Garden Study Club of Granite City and is a charter member of the PEO Sisterhood.

The couple belongs to Concordia Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Droege, Marie by name, was born in Austria. She came to the United States after world war I.

"They have made five trips to Europe together. Four of them to take medical conventions at The Hague, Copenhagen, Vienna, and Berlin. On the fifth occasion they visited Spain and Portugal."

Dr. Droege said they would go to Europe again next summer.

His wife said she is not eager to go again, however.

The doctor has brought more children into the world than he can remember. Mrs. Droege said the figure must be "over a thousand."

"I don't know," the doctor said. "I guess so. I just never kept track."

RC Cola Lists Record Sales, Net Profits

Directors of Royal Crown Cola Co., at a quarterly session in Charlotte, N. C., last week, declared the company's 97th consecutive quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on common stock and reported an all-time high in company sales and net profits.

W. H. Glenn, president of the International soft drink firm, said the company had an increase of $2.7 million in sales for the six-month period ending June 30 over the same period last year. Net profits for the period increased from $554,550 in 1961 to $853,619 in 1962. He commented, "This represents the highest point in sales of any six-month period in history and also the largest earnings in the company's history."
